

Roxbury, April 23, 1867.

My dear Nell:

I shall be happy to see the delegation of my colored friends on Friday evening next, as designated in your letter just received. Primarily I have no doubt that I am indebted to your strong friendship and warm appreciation of my anti-slavery labors for the presentation that will be made on that occasion. It will be all the more valued on that account; though I shall feel none the less obliged to every one contributing to the testimonial.

Yours, faithfully,
Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

Wm. C. Nell.

Handwritten text, possibly a signature or date, located in the top right corner.

Mr Garrison,